I think Microsoft is more than fair and I don't think Bill Gates should be told by we the people or the Government how to run a company. Albeit It was before my time when Standard Oil Co. was forced to break up due to the same type of situation.....ok that was oil this is disc but you get the idea.....I think Nintendo has far higher prices for it's stuff and then when you finally get one play-station they come up with a new one with higher prices yet on their cartridges and no-one says a thing about that.....and that's just my view.....Bobbie Metters
